THE MENACE OF STARVATION

An Editorial from The Philadelphia North American.

"It is not often that the North American takes a book as the subject of an editorial. We cite the fact because we wish to emphasize our belief that the book which we propose to discuss is a very remarkable book, indeed.

And we would suggest that those who can will buy it, keep it, read it, reread it, and study the facts which it presents. For these facts are of vital import to the people of the world.

The book of which we speak is "ON BOARD THE GOOD SHIP EARTH." The author is Herbert Quick, and it is published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company, of Indianapolis.

"The Good Ship Earth" is destined to make a profound impression on the thought of the world. It is bound to be translated into many languages and to be popularly read in many countries. It is a book of alarming truths. The reader is looking into the elemental facts upon which the fate of the entire human race depends.

There is the fascination of danger about the book. And the fascination is all the more eager and intense in "On Board the Good Ship Earth" because the danger is real and present, and besets the reader himself and his children and his children's children.

This danger is something more than individual. It rises above the epic, for it is greater than national. It is racial; almost cosmic. It is the danger of starvation, of an earth no longer capable of feeding her children. It conjures to the mind the picture of the human race in a long, agonizing, losing fight against extermination.

The fight is on at this very moment. In some parts of the world it has already become a losing fight; as it is bound to become to the people of this, the most favored of nations, if we do not guard with jealous care the treasures which nature scattered in our soil.

The soil is not only being exhausted of plant food but is being washed by rivers into the sea. The wastage of soil in the United States alone is 610,000,000 cubic yards a year. And if the soil that is lost in this country every year were hauled and dumped into the sea the train of teams would reach twenty-six times around the earth.

This is so much the concern of the nation, of the entire race, that the time will come when muddy water running off a farmer's field will be evidence upon which to take him into court and impose a penalty.

In the matter of coal, there is an equally frightful waste under existing methods. In the United States there is used every year ten times as much coal as the entire output of all the mines in the world from earliest times up to 1843. Three-fourths of this represents waste.

Depletion of soils, wasting of coal, destruction of timber, are bringing about a situation which will make it impossible for the earth to sustain the vast population which will come to it.

The problems are complicated with questions of race and color, which in themselves constitute great menace to the human race.

Up to this point it might seem that Mr. Quick's book is pessimistic. But it is not. It is extremely optimistic. For all the problems he suggests can be solved by the application of scientific truth.

It is this note of optimism that makes the book worth while. The race need not die of starvation. But its rescue is in its own hands.

Mr. Quick looks at the problems of conservation in the largest sense. They are not state or national. They are world problems. And the spirit in which the nations meet to solve them will determine the fate of the people of those nations as passengers on "The Good Ship Earth."

Mr. Quick's book will be a powerful influence in bringing the nations to face those problems in a just and wise spirit. Ask for "On Board the Good Ship Earth" at your bookseller's.

STRIKES ICEBERG; RUSHES TO PORT

Steamer Manchester Commerce Keeps Pumps Going and by Racing Hundred Miles Saves Lives of Crew.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 5.—The Furness line freighter, Manchester Commerce, dragged her way into the harbor here Tuesday, her bow a mass of crumpled wreckage, and her pumps racing madly to defeat the flood of water which poured in through the shattered hull.

The steamer, which carries no wireless apparatus, crashed head-on into a giant iceberg at 2 o'clock Sunday morning while about 100 miles east of Belle Isle.

The night was very dark and the berg loomed out of the blackness so suddenly that there was no time to change the course of the steamer, which swept at full speed into the mountain of ice. The force of the impact was terrific. The steel prow of the liner was crumpled up like a piece of tin as far as the collision bulkhead. The decks were covered with huge fragments of broken ice and wreckage.

Capt. Couch made a hasty survey of the damage and headed his ship for St. Johns. He succeeded in notifying his agents in Montreal by means of flag signals. The sea was swept by heavy storm and the steamer had a hard time making port.

Torrents of water poured into the hold through the shattered bow. The pumps, although constantly in operation, could scarcely hold their own. The ship reached here in sinking condition. She was the worst wreck that ever entered the harbor. Repairs will require about two months.

The steamer carried 5,000 tons of general cargo. Her lower hold, above which the water did not come, was filled with timber, while grain, flour and foodstuffs were on the deck above.

The Manchester Commerce carries a crew of 40 officers and men. She built of iron and registers 633 tons gross.

FIND BODY OF DEAD WOMAN NEAR BUSHES

Mrs. Mary Louisa, Who Disappeared Sometime Ago, May be the Victim.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 5.—With her head and chest crushed as though beaten with heavy stones, a woman, believed by the police to be Mrs. Mary Louisa, of St. Clair, near here, was found dead Tuesday in a clump of bushes on the outskirts of Pottsville. Mrs. Louisa disappeared from her home about two weeks ago and her 13-year-old daughter created a stir when she reported to the police that her father had thrown her mother down a mine breach and killed her. The mine breach was searched in vain.

A week ago the husband, Michael Louisa, disappeared, leaving four small children alone. They are now being cared for by the county.

The description of the missing woman tallies with that of the murdered woman. She had been dead about two weeks.

WOMAN TO PAY THE FULL PENALTY

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield and James Plew were sentenced in the superior court by Judge Burpee Tuesday afternoon to be hanged at the state prison here on March 4, next, for the murder of William Wakefield, the woman's husband.

No woman prisoner had hanged in Connecticut since 1786. Mrs. Wakefield's counsel will appeal to Gov. Baldwin to commute the sentence.

Wakefield was killed at his home in Cheshire, Conn., last June. Plew turned state's evidence and confessed that he had conspired with Mrs. Wakefield to murder her husband.

While she took her three children for a walk, he shot the husband; then tied a rope around the neck to give the appearance of suicide.

Plew is a member of the famous Jewkes family, which scientists say, has produced more than 1,500 defectives. When arraigned Plew pleaded guilty to homicide under the ancient statute of 1612, which dispenses with a jury and permits the court to determine the degree of guilt. With one exception this was the first time in 200 years that the statute had been invoked. Neither Jew nor Mrs. Wakefield showed much emotion during the trial.

YOUNG MEN AND ALL MEN. COME TO SEE ME. Let me remove your trouble, purify your blood, strengthen your nervous system and restore you to a healthy, manly feeling, thereby relieving you of the burden that is felt from any disease. My practice is limited to these diseases, and each case I accept is identical with some disease I have cured. Therefore it is no more than reasonable for me to expect to do as much for you as I have done for others. After treating with me for just a little while you will have as much confidence as I have in my methods.

Dr. Fleener's Remedies Save Men

I want to tell every young man what his father should have told him in his youth. What every young man and father ought to know. No sadder spectacle ever comes to my attention than a young man whose body and mind is infected with disease. He is handicapped all through life. The strong, robust man with pure blood cells passes him at every turn in the race of life. Thousands of these cases should never have been. An ounce of prevention would have kept the young man of today and the father of tomorrow in the bloom of health, strength and vigor. Failure is as certain to follow a weakened and diseased mind as day will follow night. Don't you believe the great men of today, of yesterday, performed every private and public duty fearlessly and earnestly? Then why should you not guard your HERITAGE when it is worth more to you, more to your children and your children's children than all the money the Rockefellers and Vanderbilts possess? Your success depends upon your health and determination. All of these things being true, loan me your confidence and I will guarantee you success and health. This I will accomplish by making a strong man of you—a healthy man, a man with strong nerves, clear brain and a sound body—a man with good, pure blood coursing through your veins, free from disease germs, taint or infection. False pride and morosity have stood between thousands of men and success, health and happiness.

What the blood stream won't do in the human system for weak organs will never be accomplished. Are you willing to hand your HERITAGE down from generation to generation through your children? Look about you at the thousands of unsuccessful suffering men who are paying the price of their ancestors' indiscretion. Have you inherited bad blood or have you contracted it as some unsuspecting moment? Begin now to stamp it out by taking the best blood making and blood purifying remedies.
